Overview

Jeff focuses his practice on the areas of estate planning and administration and general business services.

Jeff's estate planning practice involves the representation of clients on a wide range of matters, including issues such as probate avoidance, Medicaid planning, creating distribution plans for minor children and/or disabled individuals, and drafting documents to accomplish the client's objectives upon their disability or death.

In his estate administration practice, Jeff represents and counsels executors, administrators, trustees, and other fiduciaries on the administration of both probate and non-probate estates, including the payment of debts of the estate, preparation of estate tax returns, and the ultimate distribution of assets to the heirs.

Jeff's corporate/business law practice is focused on business formation/dissolution, business succession planning, acquisition or sale of businesses, franchise law, employment law and other contractual matters.

Throughout Jeff's career, he has focused on the unique needs of his clients and works closely with them to ensure that all options pertaining to the client's specific issue are fully understood.

Jeff is a frequent speaker on estate planning and probate topics.

When not working with his clients, Jeff enjoys golfing, serving his community as a member of the Evendale Council and spending time with his wife Natalie and his three daughters.
